

Hôtel de la Colonne.

Villefranche. A.D.

18. 2. 28.

My dear Jimmy:

You are wrong to think as you do. I wrote nothing to Hayes except what had occurred; the only thing I particularised was our rapprochement in Paris & my hopes for its future success.

I have no idea what is happening now, except that you seem to wish to undo what happened there.

I don't. If ever any human being were sincere with you there, I was. And I think you see, why you wouldn't keep it up.

If I am wrong, answer this note. Camilla is very well, lonely & gay. Jeremiah Russell has agreed to take her. Then mother wrote to say that she would pay one tenth expenses. ^{£50} £10, & I have written to her to ask, I can hope that in one year now, I will bring Caddy to England in April 12th, for her first term there. She will have to be re-affiliated, children grow you know, a the journey is expensive. That is why I want Mother's $50 now to have the first term's fees clear. ^{They are dollars paid in advance.} If she refuses to do that, I don't see how it can be managed. Perhaps you ^{will} could persuade her, but I don't know yet. Maybe she

This to keep you 'an covenant'? You see, I ^{am doing} ~~what~~ what you wished, or am trying to.

If you feel like keeping friends, send me a copy of the 'Mallory's Publications'. I read part of it once at the B. D. It was an inspired idea to edit it.

And please try & think well of us.

Love yours.

D.