gave Virginia Thomson my accounts to do again, & he found that I was 50 francs short on Nalin's debt. I am terribly sorry - want stress the absolute error in my part - my 'sums' are bad, & my accounts that day being complicated. Have sent it her with all my apologies.

Enclosed the Cards U.T. thought we:

Note. (appended by U.T. to explain names you won't know.) (I said you admitted the 'New Yorker'.)

For the rest, my dear, silly talk about or give neither you nor I nor she have ever been on or how would go in, don't cut much ice. Try & forgive me - by letter if you will.
