Welcome Home.

Welcome.

u Bude.

7, dearest Aunt.

I could not write last night - the post was gone. It is a lovely place, fourteen miles from anywhere - At the moment all are a little desolate owing to catering difficulties etc. Cecil thin as paper, very quiet Jimmy fit. So am I

THE OVID PRESS
100 WEST PARK AVENUE N.Y.
but it's a terrifying place -
huge cliffs & utter desolation.

The house is comfort itself &
the servant Cook Beer a darling.

Forgive these details, all we've had time to gather - I'll write at length in a day or so.

Food will have solved itself
by lunch time - (there is more cream than we can eat), but not a village shop for six miles.

Please try to understand what I feel about all your goodness - It is more than I can ever express. Thank Beaumont Jimmy's love @ all times to you & to Aunt Agnes - ever yours -
Jay.
